Frederick A.B. Meyerson, Ph.D., J.D.
Assistant Professor of Demography, Ecology and Environmental Policy
Department of Natural Resource Sciences
University of Rhode Island
Kingston, RI 02881
Tel: 401-874-4580
e-mail: fmeyerson@uri.edu

Married, two children

Education:

Yale University; Yale School of Forestry and Environmental Studies, Ph.D. 2000, Conservation Biology/Human Population and Biodiversity (M.S., M.Phil. 1998)

Smithsonian Institution/Man and the Biosphere Biological Diversity Program, Certificate 1995

Yale School of Forestry and Environmental Studies, Master of Environmental Science 1995

Columbia Law School, J.D. 1984

Articles Editor; Journal of Transnational Law; Editor-in-Chief, Columbia Law School News.

Dartmouth College, B.A. Cum Laude 1980

High Honors in Environmental Policy, Honors in English

Major Fellowships:

Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, Public Policy Scholar, 2003

AAAS/NSF Science and Technology Policy Fellowship, National Science Foundation, Directorate for GeoSciences, and US Environmental Protection Agency, 2001-03

Post-Doctoral Fellowship, Brown University, Watson Institute for International Studies, Global Environmental Program 2000-01

National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship, 1995-2000

Teresa Heinz Scholar for the Environment, 1998-99

EPA Graduate Research (STAR) Fellowship, 1995-98

Yale University Fellowship, 1994-98

International Fellow, Columbia University, 1982-83

National Merit Scholarship Semi-Finalist, 1976

Employment and Academic Appointments:

2006 – present Assistant Professor, Department of Natural Resource Sciences, University of Rhode Island, Kingston, RI Courses taught: Ecology, Climate Change and Variability: Science and Policy Population Growth, Migration and Environmental Change (Recent Advances in Natural Resource Science)

2005 – 2006 Visiting College Professor, University of Rhode Island

2004 – 2005 Visiting Scholar, Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D.C., and Faculty Research Associate, Georgetown University; Science, Technology and International Affairs.

2003 Public Policy Scholar, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, Washington, D.C. Wrote first chapters of book on American population policy and its environmental ramifications, authored several scholarly and popular articles on population and the environment.

2001-2003 AAAS Science and Technology Policy Fellow, National Science Foundation, Directorate of Geosciences, Office of International and Integrated Activities, Arlington, VA. Lead writer and editor for Complex Environmental Systems: Synthesis for Earth, Life and Society in the 21st Century (A 10-Year Outlook for the National Science Foundation) (2003-2012). Member, NSF Environmental Research and Education Working Group. Core team member, NSF Biocomplexity Competition (coupled natural and human systems). Partial secondment to the U.S. Global Change Policy Program, to work with the Interagency Working Group on Human Contributions and Responses to Climate Change. Seconded to U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, National Center for Environmental Assessment, 2002-2003. Member, U.S. Delegation, Convention on Biological Diversity, SBSTTA 8 Negotiations, Montreal, Canada, 2003.

2001-2003 Assistant Professor (Adjunct), Department of Ecology and Evolutionary Biology, Brown University, Providence, RI; Faculty Associate, Brown Population Studies and Training Center. Population and environmental change research, writing, and teaching.

2000-2001 Assistant Professor (Adjunct), Environmental Studies, Brown University, Providence, RI; Post-Doctoral Fellow, Watson Institute for International Studies, Brown University. Courses taught: Global Ecological Impact Assessment (co-taught); guest lectures in Ecology, Conservation Biology, Population and Society, Environmental Issues. Advised Watson International Environmental (mid-career) Fellows.

1997-2000 Lecturer, Yale College, Studies in the Environment and Biology. Courses taught: Global Problems of Population Growth, Senior Seminar in Environmental Studies, Multidisciplinary Approaches to Managing Earth and its Resources, guest lectures in Terrestrial Ecology, International Relations, other courses. Advised interdisciplinary undergraduate senior theses.

1998-2000 Director, Global Change Policy Project, Yale Center for Environmental Law and Policy, Yale University.

1996-2001 Consultant, Union of Concerned Scientists. Authored and edited reports and position papers on population projections and population and environmental issues, including climate change, forest resources, biodiversity and water resources, sent to ~2000 UCS scientist-activists and available on web-site. Authored alerts on Congressional action on population issues.

1992-present Other consultant/writer relationships: United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA); American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS); The Nature Conservancy; Population Reference Bureau; Population Resource Center; Natural Resources Defense Council (Amicus Journal); The Communications Consortium Media Center; Planned Parenthood Federation of America (delegate to 1994 U.N. Conference on Population and Development in Cairo); Rene Dubos Center for Human Environments (delegate to 1992 U.N. Conference on Environment and Development in Rio).

1994-1998 Teaching Fellow; Yale University School of Forestry and Environmental Studies. Lecturing, preparing and grading exams, leading discussion sections in World Population and the Environment, Environmental Law and Policy.

1987-92 President, Ariel Entertainment, Los Angeles. Personal management and consulting; record, video and television production; Vice-President/General Manager, Rincon Records, pop/rock and children's music label, worldwide distribution (SONY).

1984-87 Attorney, Gibson, Dunn and Crutcher, Washington, D.C. and Los Angeles. Legal practice concentrated in international trade (Middle East and Eastern Block countries), high-technology export regulation, corporate law and entertainment. 3

1983 Summer Associate, Mobil Oil Corporation, New York and Denver. International marketing and refining, U.S. exploration and production divisions; Summer Associate, Stoel, Rives, Boley, Portland, OR, land use planning, property and water rights, contracts.

1982 Summer Associate, The Conservation Foundation, Washington, D.C. (now part of World Wildlife Fund). Legal research and writing for Land and American Growth and Latin American industrial siting environmental assessments.

1980-81 Advisor to the Brazilian Secretary of the Environment, Secretaria Especial do Meio Ambiente, Brasilia, Brazil. Authored environmental impact statement on the Pantanal, developed coal-mining and combustion regulations, advised state environmental agencies.

1978 and 1979 Energy Policy Intern, Policy Planning Division, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Drafted proposal for de-regulation of heavy oil, other components of President Carter's July 1979 Energy Message, assisted in negotiating a U.S.-Brazil environmental agreement, developed agency policy on gasahol, member of coal strip-mining task force.
